I spent a significant amount of time troubleshooting on how to center the search bar without the navigator change but after many minutes of using flexbox, i used margin to center it. I also have a hard time centering the main section but i figured that i forgot to style the body section thats why it won't center. Through this process, I deepened my understanding of Flexbox layout techniques and how different CSS properties interact. This challenge reinforced the importance of experimenting, debugging, and using the right tools for the right job in web development.

I spent 2 hours making this layout.
